Motivation

In this pandemic, we have lost numerous life because of negligence and not following guidelines. We are not focusing on the cause of such behaviour but rather than how to check such activities and prevent them as from growing as much as we can. With this kept in mind I've been working on our surveillance system, which would detect situation in real time where people are flaunting covid-19 rules and regulations.

As of now only two criteria are added into the system, which are 1. mask 2. social distance . If this rule are flaunted then an alert will be sent to the respective supervisor to act upon.
